News Culled for The Progress by our own correspondents.

FAIRVIEW.

—Potatoes are small and few to the hill.

—Mr. Hicks and son-in-law intend to move out here in the spring.

—Mr. Hicks and Mr. William Matchett started for Ontario on Tuesday.

—Threshing is finished. The sample is No. 1 hard and the yield is good considering the dry season.

—Land hunters are quite plentiful around here just now. Mr. Hicks, from near Lindsay, Ontario, has taken up a half section for himself, and a half section for his son-in-law, Mr. Cain.

BROADVIEW.

—The Rev. J. Pooley bid farewell to Broadview a week ago.

—The C.P.R. authorities have just removed another of our sober, decent citizens to Moose Jaw in the person of Mr. John McTaggart.

—Rev. Hugh McKay, of Round Lake Mission, was in town last week and was the guest of Rev. Mr. Nichol and wife at the Manse.

—Rev. Wm. Nichol preached a very useful and practical sermon here last Sabbath on "Pure and Impure Religion," from the epistle of James I., 26th and 27th verses.

—Well you are a plucky little fellow to pitch into the big "Courier" as you do. Sail in, he is only a beer barrel, and if you succeed in knocking a stave out he will collapse at once.

—Our "Show Fair" was a great success. There was a larger and better quality of vegetables than we thought could be found in the country this dry season. Stock also made a good appearance. One farmer got as many as 27 prizes, viz., twelve 1st, 7 2nd and 8 3rd class. Some got prizes who did not expect them, and a few who did expect some did not get any. Such is life.

—A meeting of our citizens was called last week to arrange for the reception of His Excellency, the Governor-General. A committee of competent men was appointed and they did their work well. His Excellency arrived here in a special car soon after 4 p. m. on Tuesday, and received the company graciously and drove out afterwards in a "four-in-hand" to the Indian agency and lunched with Col. McDonald and his lady.

ON THE SURFACE.

Skin diseases appear on the surface and are often humiliating to the sufferer from them. From two to three bottles of Burdock Blood Bitters will cure salt rheum, erysipelas, skin-itch, tetter, nettle rash, eczema, boils, pimples, or blotches, at the same time restoring the general health.

MOOSOMIN.

—W. Barber has returned from a visit to the east.

—Jas. McArthur has about completed a very neat residence north of the new Methodist church.

—David Robertson, who cut his foot about two months ago, and went home, has returned to town.

—The Rev. J. McMillan, of Wapella, who has occupied the pulpit in the Presbyterian church, left for home yesterday.

—Lord and Lady Stanley and suite arrived here at 11 o'clock today. The mayor having proclaimed a public holiday, a large number gathered at the depot to welcome the distinguished visitors. As the train steamed into the station the brass band struck up the national anthem, after which the following address engrossed by Mr. Sutcliffe, was presented by the mayor:

To the Right Honourable Baron Stanley, of Eresby, K.T.G., C.B., &c., Governor-General of Canada.

May it please Your Excellency, we, the Mayor, Councillors and Citizens of the town of Moosomin, in the Northwest Territories, desire to extend to yourself and Lady Stanley our hearty welcome on this, your first visit to this portion of Her Majesty's Dominions. As the citizens of what may be called the gateway town of these vast Territories, we esteem it an honor to be the first to welcome the representative of the Queen, and to request you to convey to Her Majesty our sentiments of deep loyalty to Her Person and throne. We regret that the short notice we received of your intended visit has prevented us from tendering you such a reception as we should have wished, and has also prevented the settlers of the surrounding district from being present to receive you, but who we feel sure, had they been aware of your arrival, would have joined us in giving you a hearty welcome. We feel certain that your tour through these Territories will be a source of pleasure to yourself and a lasting benefit to the country, as you will be able to see for yourself the great future which undoubtedly lies before what was a few years ago known as the great lone land. In conclusion we would once more tender you our warm welcome to the great Northwest and wish you and Lady Stanley a prosperous and pleasant trip through the country and trust that the pleasure derived from the same, may induce you ere long to pay us another visit.

Signed,

J. DANIEL,
Mayor.

Moosomin, Oct. 1st, 1889.

His Excellency replied briefly. Cheers were then given, after which a number of leading citizens were presented to the Governor-General and Lady Stanley. The party then drove to the public school and about town. They then returned to the depot, and afterwards drove to Wapella, the ladies leaving at 2 o'clock by train.

GOOD ADVICE.

To be healthy and have lots of life and vim, be careful in diet, take plenty of sleep, and regulate the bowels bile and blood with Burdock Blood Bitters a sure cure for constipation, biliousness, dyspepsia, all blood humors, nervous and all broken down conditions of the system.

CARLYLE.

—Only a few of the Government fire-breaks are being turned this fall.

—Our general grocery and dry goods store has changed hands, J. Wiley having secured sole control.

—Land-seekers still continue to visit this part of the country, which of course is the garden of the Northwest.

—C. D. Richards, of the Dominion land office, Brandon, Man., has charge of the land office here at present.

—W. Turriff is sending men and teams east to work on the Great Northwest Central railway. His brother, J. G. Turriff, has secured a large contract on the railway.

—Our agricultural exhibition takes place on October 4th, our new mail service comes into effect the same day. Mr. Frank Stevenson, of Alameda, was the successful tenderer for the contract.

—Threshing is now the order of the day in this district. The yield is not very large, but fairly good considering the extreme droughty season we have had. The quality of the grain is excellent. Gophers have been very destructive to crops here during the past summer.

—Smoke, as if from a prairie or wood fire, was seen north of here during the past few days. Some fears were entertained that it might be in the mountain, which would probably occasion incalculable loss to the farmers, as the majority of them from around here have their winter supply of hay put up there. Besides the loss of timber would be enormous.

THE "INJUSTICE" PLEA.

Brandon Sun: If the Catholic church wishes, on any ground whatever, to continue their convents or separate schools and to increase their number, no one need complain provided they do it with their own money, but the moment public money is given out of the public chest to aid convents and separate schools, that must come in contact with the public schools of the province that should be national in their conception, then everyone in the province has a right to complain. This talk about the rights of the Catholic minority is much like the "conscientious scruples" and "conscience" talk. No one wants to see any injustice done to the Catholics of the province. There is not the slightest danger to apprehend that the Catholic minority will be abused or be denied the enjoyment of equal rights with the Protestant majority in the province. This being so there is no occasion to be agitated or alarmed over the cries some are trying to raise. The time has fully arrived when an educational system should be inaugurated in this province that will respect, protect and promote the rights and interests of every citizen present and prospective, and that will refuse to prefer any sect or class. We cannot afford to allow our efforts to be longer divided. If we can all pull together, direct our undivided energies to the accomplishment of a common end, and expend all our moneys in the promotion and upbuilding of a great national system, the most glowing anticipations regarding our educational affairs will be speedily realized. The government will be recreant to their duties and unfaithful to the great trusts reposed in them, if they fail in their purpose to place our educational affairs on a more stable and satisfactory basis.

The mental condition of the King of Bavaria is becoming worse.

FOUR NEW STATES.

South Dakota, North Dakota, Montana and Washington.

On February 22, 1889, the President signed the bill creating South Dakota, North Dakota, Montana, and Washington states of the Union.

South Dakota.—The great Prairie State, to which the St. Paul, Minneapolis & Manitoba Railway has three main lines reaching Ellendale, Abitibi, Huron, Watonwan, and Sioux Falls. Go to South Dakota via the St. Paul, Minneapolis & Manitoba Railway and pass through St. Paul and Minneapolis en route.

North Dakota.—Where is grown No. 1 Hard Scotch Fife wheat; whose healthful climate nurtures the most vigorous and brainy civilization on earth; where single counties raise more wheat, oats and barley than entire states; the soil of whose fertility the prairies are richer than the valley of the Nile; where the Turtle Mountain, Minn., Devil's Lake and Lake Umbagog invite the home seeker to secure a free home. Magnificent daily train service to Fargo, Grand Forks, Bismarck, Devils Lake, Bottinaw, and all other important points.

Montana, the golden—Treasures in her mines of precious metals; wealth in her 4,000,000 head of live stock; profit in her fertile fields, producing a larger yield of crops than any other state or territory; the richest country per inhabitant on earth, where property is universal; which has the best paid labor in the world; a balmy winter climate, caressed by warm winds from the Pacific. The St. Paul, Minneapolis & Manitoba Railway is the only railroad passing through a continuous mountainous country from St. Paul and Minneapolis to the Rocky Mountains. It runs through the Great Reservation of 18,000,000 acres of land, free to settlers, in the Milk River Valley. Wood, water, and coal in abundance; no irrigation required; the only line passing through great falls with its 1,000,000 horse-power character; immense coal veins, and surrounding farming country of free land; through Helena, the capital city and commercial centre of Montana, and Butte, the richest mining camp on earth, to San Francisco by the Columbia River Valley, Portland and Seattle Route, or Ogden, Utah, to California points. Remember this is the only line running during cars, sleeping cars, and free coast-to-coast of its own from St. Paul and Minneapolis to Great Falls, Helena and Butte. It is also the shortest line to Butte.

Washington.—The country of tall timber, wooded by Puget Sound, the Mediterranean of the Pacific. Do not forget that the St. Paul, Minneapolis & Manitoba Railway is the only line which enters a house of three routes to the Pacific coast. The Montana Pacific route is the only line by which passengers en route to Tacoma, Portland and San Francisco can pass through four towns, rapid and scenic. For a full description of the route, see the "Pacific Coast" and "Northwest" routes. Take the shortest route to the coast, and you will find it the most comfortable and economical.

For further information, apply to the agents of the four new states, or to the agents of the Pacific Coast and Northwest routes. WATSON, GUNN & CO. Agents, P. O. Box 17, St. Paul.

Sunday School Lessons.

In this country where settlement is so rapid and may have not frequent opportunities of attending public worship, the Bible Lessons will be a great help to the study of one set portion of Scripture for each Sunday. The head of the family should collect its members around him and, if possible, sing some hymn and offer prayer, then read, the portion of Scripture set for the day, take up each verse and try to induce each member of the family to talk about it and ask questions. The comments on the lesson we give will help to make the study interesting and be valuable to aid in answering questions. This should not, however, be allowed to interfere with opportunities to attend to preaching service as frequently as possible. To the regular Sunday school teacher and scholar our Bible study column commends itself by experience.

THE ARK TAKEN TO ZION.

LESSON II, FOURTH QUARTER, INTERNATIONAL SERIES, OCT. 13.

Text of the Lesson, II Sam. vi, 1-19—Commit Verses 11, 12—Golden Text, Psalm lxxviii, 2—Commentary by the Rev. Dr. M. Stearns.

Compiled from Lesson Helper Quarterly by permission of H. S. Hoffman, publisher, Philadelphia.

David being now king over all Israel, and having taken the stronghold of the Jebusites, which up to this time had been a continued disgrace in their midst, he at once thinks of the Ark of God, pitches a tent for it in Jerusalem (v. 17) and proceeds to bring it thither.

1. "Again, David gathered together all the chosen men of Israel, thirty thousand." The previous chapter tells us in its closing verses of the gathering of Israel to defeat their enemies the Philistines, and how David, on two different occasions and by different methods, successfully overcame them, being guided by the Lord in answer to prayer (chap. v, 19-29); but this is a gathering not to overcome enemies, but to rejoice in the Lord; and it was held after due consultation with the captains of thousands and hundreds and every leader. (I Chr. xiii, 1-6).

2. "And David arose, and went with all the people . . . to bring up from thence the Ark of God." The margin of this verse, and also I Chr. xiii, 6, says that they went to Bethshalem, that is, to Kirjath-jearim; the ark had been here in the house of Abinadab since the time when the Philistines sent it home in a new cart drawn by two milk cows, leaving their calves shut up at home. It had been with the Philistines seven months, the Tabernacle being at Shiloh, from whence the ark had been taken. (I Sam. iv, 7).

3. "Which is called by the Name, even the Name of the Lord of Hosts that sitteth upon the cherubim." (I Chr. xiii, 6). Here is the most intimate association of the Ark with the name of Jehovah, it is a wondrous type of the Lord Jesus Christ as the end of the law for righteousness to every one that believeth (Rom. x, 4); as our mercy seat or propitiation for sin compare Heb. ix, 5; and Rom. vii, 26, R. V. margin; and as one with His church, the light and glory of earth in the days of the New Jerusalem. The word and gold are suggestive of the humanity and divinity of Christ; the ark is explained by the passages already given; the tables of testimony, safely kept in the Ark, speak of Him who came to fulfill all righteousness, and of whom it is written: "I delight to do Thy will, O my God; yea, Thy law is within my heart" (Ps. xl, 8), while the thought that the cherubim represent the church, His body, is sufficiently established by the fact that they were beaten out of the same pieces of gold which formed the mercy seat (Ex. xxv, 19, margin). That Israel saw all this significance in the Ark we do not pretend to say, nor do we think it may be that their principal thought was simply that this holy vessel was a symbol of the presence of their God, the Lord of Hosts who dwelleth between the cherubim (I Sam. iv, 4; I Sam. vi, 2; II Ki. xix, 15; I Chr. xiii, 6; Ps. lxxv, 1, xix, 1, Isa. lxxviii, 16). But surely let us think that the church of Christ with all her light should know more than she seems to about this, the most wonderful and significant vessel of all Scripture.

4. "And they set the Ark of God upon a new cart." David failed to inquire of the Lord in this matter, else we should not have had this sad record. He knew better, for hear him: "Then David said, none ought to carry the ark of God but the Levites, for them hath the Lord chosen to carry the ark of God, and to minister unto Him forever (I Chr. xv, 2).

5. "And he went before the Ark, and David and all the house of Israel, played before the Lord on all manner of instruments." It was a grand display and in a good cause, and the man who would dare to find fault, simply because the Ark was in a cart drawn by oxen instead of being on the shoulders of the Levites, would deserve to be called narrow-minded and a croaker; nevertheless he would stand in the minority with God, and be a blessed man even though against the king.

6. "Uzzah put forth his hand to the Ark of God, and took hold of it, for the oxen stumbled." Margin and R. V. The worst stumble was on the part of David when he employed this method, but that was not so manifest nor did it seem to endanger the safety of the Ark as much as this stumble of the oxen. The danger of a wrong step does not always appear at first, and the sin is often made manifest only through failure on the part of those not directly responsible.

7. "The anger of the Lord was kindled against Uzzah, and God smote him there for the error." Uzzah signifies strength, and strength is a good thing, but the work of the Lord is not dependent upon the strength of men; His strength is made perfect in our weakness, and His work is accomplished not by the might or power of man but by the Spirit of the Lord of Hosts.

8. "And David was displeased." It is a sad affair when the servant of the Lord, be he king or peasant, becomes displeased with his Master. It shows how disobedience always leads to other sins and strikes at the very root of fellowship with God. A God of Love can do no wrong, can by no means make a mistake, and the only right thing for His children to do is to walk with Him in cheerful submission. David had no one to blame but himself; had he done right this would not have happened; and now that chastening has come, he should have been displeased with himself, and have said, with Eli: "It is the Lord; let Him do what seemeth Him good."

9. "And David was afraid of the Lord that day." Another result of his sin, which prayer and obedience would have saved him from. "There is no fear in love; perfect love casteth out fear; fear hath torment." 10, 11. "The Lord blessed Obed-edom, and all his household." David refused at that time to have anything more to do with the Ark, and so it was carried into the house of Obed-edom, where it remained three months. A three months' blessing for Obed-edom and a three months' loss to David, for the inference is that David did not return to the Lord with all his heart during this period, but continued out of fellowship with God. How many Christians are losing the privilege and blessedness of fellowship with God and a happy walk with Him in the joys of His salvation, because they refuse to accept meekly some chastening which He is lovingly besting them for their good, or because they are disobedient and will not humbly confess their sin and turn from it. How many blessed households there are, on the other hand, where Jesus is welcomed and honored as Saviour and friend and cheerfully submitted to as King over all.

12. "So David went and brought up the Ark of God from the house of Obed-edom into the city of David with gladness." He hears of the blessing that has come to the house of Obed-edom, and now does what he should have done three months before. He confesses his sin, saying to the Levites, as he called upon them to bear the Ark: "Because ye did it not at the first the Lord our God made a breach upon us, for that we sought Him not after the due order." But now the Levites having sanctified themselves, bear the Ark of God upon their shoulders, with the staves whereon, as Moses commanded,

BRONCHITIS CURED.

June 25th, 1888.

The Winter after the great fire in Chicago I contracted Bronchial affections, and since then have been obliged to spend nearly every Winter South. Last November was advised to try Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil with Hypophosphites and to my surprise was relieved at once, and by continuing its use three months was entirely cured, gained flesh and strength and was able to stand upon the Bazaar and attend to business every day.

RUMORS POLITICAL.

It is stated in well-informed circles that after the decennial census next year there will be a redistribution of the Parliamentary electoral divisions, and that Assiniboia will be given three representatives. It will be divided at or near Broadview, all the Territory lying between that point and the Manitoba boundary will be constituted East Assiniboia. Between Broadview and McLean will be formed into a new district and called Central Assiniboia. The western district will remain unchanged. These changes are accepted as probable in certain quarters, and already rumors are afloat as to candidates aspiring to the representation of the Central district.

GOOD FOR DENNIS.

The county of Dennis in Manitoba has returned Hon. D. McLean, the new Provincial Secretary, by acclamation. It was at one time feared that local influences would be the cause of placing the Conservative party of the county in apparent opposition to the avowed Government policy of abolishing the dual language and separate schools. A candidate was nominated, and he appeared to have strong support, but better counsels prevailed and he has withdrawn from the contest. The following letter explains itself:

"To the chairman of the central committee of the Conservative Association: Dear Sir—I find in a personal canvass of part of Dennis that the Conservative party, while not in any way approving of the past record of the Greenway government, and especially of the Hon. D. McLean's vote on the railway question, are so anxious to see if the present administration will carry out the policy in reference to the dual language and separate school questions foreshadowed by Hon. Mr. Martin in his speech at Portage la Prairie, that the past acts of the government for the present appear to be lost sight of. I therefore deem it in the best interest of our party that Hon. Mr. McLean should be allowed to be returned without opposition. In view of the above facts, I would ask the central committee to allow me to withdraw from the contest. I have the honor to be, sir, your obedient servant, R. E. Campion."

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

Some interesting developments are likely to be forthcoming shortly in connection with the Northwest Government printing. Tenders were asked for the work required, but it appears that one of the lowest tenderers is not to get the work. It was announced some time ago that the Regina Journal had put in the lowest tender for the Northwest Gazette and the Advisory Board had ordered it to be given to that office, but the Lieutenant-Governor had ordered the Queen's Printer to continue the work at the Leader Office. Of what use is the Advisory Board and wherein lies its power?

A fortnight ago the haggling Vidette had a contemptible reference to the editor of THE PROGRESS. We did not think it worthy of notice at the time, but some of our friends have pressed it upon our attention. The Vidette broadly hinted that we were a foreigner. But querulous people are often mistaken. The editor and publisher of THE PROGRESS is indebted for his name to one of the United Empire Loyalists who preferred to leave their homes in the settled portions of the United States on their declaration of independence, and hew out for themselves new homes in the Ontario wilds in order still to live under the British flag.

The Vidette persists in haggling about a paragraph appearing in THE PROGRESS in reference to the mid-summer grants from the Territorial School Board to teachers throughout the country. The paragraph in question stated that there were complaints as to delays in receiving grants. Such was the fact in some cases. At least one school teacher we know of did not receive his grant till four weeks after his report was sent in, which was done the very next day after his school closed. The true explanation is that the Lieut.-Governor, before leaving for his trip through the Saskatchewan country, did not leave sufficient cheques signed to cover payments during his absence, and school teachers as well as others had to be inconvenienced on account of the Lieut.-Governor's neglect of duty.

It appears that our legal acumen was at fault last week in our reference to chapter 39 of the Revised Ordinances of the Northwest. Our interpretation of Sec. 2 does not stand the test of a close application of the niceties of legal interpretation. The whole section reads as follows:

"No person on that day (the Lord's day) shall play at billiards or pool in any public room, or run races on horseback or in vehicles of any sort, or discharge fire arms or engage in any game or games in any public place."

The qualifying words at the end "in any public place", are held to qualify the whole section. No regard of course can be had to intention of the lawmakers or the common sense view of the evil aimed at. Settlers in the vicinity of lakes will therefore have to submit to being disturbed by Sabath-breakers until the law is amended.

The county of Haldimand should be disenfranchised for a period. The last four or five elections have been voided for corrupt practices of recognized agents of candidates. Both political parties are to blame, as both have been convicted of corruption. Those who do the bribery should be made to suffer the utmost penalty of the law.

In reference to the defeat of constitutional prohibition in Pennsylvania, the Rev. Jos. Cook, of Boston, says that the whiskey syndicates controlled and used the machinery of both the national and political parties. The result, he thinks, should be a revolt of all honest voters from every political organization dominated by the traffic.

The captain reports that he never once sighted the U.S. steamer Rush. The schooner Maggie Mac arrived last night from Behring Sea with 1,300 seal skins. She was overhauled by the Rush after a three hours chase on August 27th, but Lieutenant Tuttle allowed her to proceed after examining her papers, and as the skins seemed to be several days old. Capt. Dodd says he had resolved to fight rather than surrender the vessels or skins.

A FACT WORTH REMEMBERING.

Mr. Jos. Binnie, of Toronto, states that his little baby when three months old was so fed with summer complaint that under doctors' treatment her life was despaired of. Four doses of Dr. Foster's Extract of Wild Strawberry cured her.

WAPELLA.

—It is not the intention to present the Governor-General with an address, as we wish to be different from every other place. We have, however, the most profound regard for His Excellency and wish him a good time. Mr. M. G. Gibb, boss of the government well boring machine, has struck water at 35 feet on M.I. Martin's homestead. Mr. Gibb had to leave the last place as the team was not strong enough to work the machine, and he had to abandon Mr. Hughes' as the boulders could not be bored through with the material at hand. With the above two exceptions Mr. Gibb has been very successful during the past year and is a pains-taking, hard-working man and could not be improved upon for his business. Mrs. R. Mann has been near death's door for some ten days, but under the care of Dr. Bruce is slowly but surely recovering. Messrs. Lock, Bell and Isaacson have done the town this week. Messrs. Bell and Lock were well pleased with their orders.

SALT COATS.

—The fair on Tuesday was knocked out by bad weather. Notwithstanding, the exhibit was such as to give a stranger unbounded faith in the agricultural future of the banner district of the North west Territories.

—His Excellency, the Governor-General, was with us on Friday. Our citizens present him with an address to which he made a felicitous reply. A contingent of Mounted Police escorted him to the Crofter Colony. Messrs. Baker and Eden of the M. & N.W., were with the party.

—Mr. Ford, a young farmer living some miles from town, lost his way while en route home during Monday night snow storm. He sought shelter in an old shanty, and in building a fire placed the wood around a small tin can which was in the shanty. The can contained a quantity of powder, and as he was warming himself over the blaze there was an explosion. His hands and face were badly burned. His eyelashes and eye-brows burned off and his eyes slightly injured. He was forced to remain in the shanty alone till Tuesday afternoon, when he made his way home and sought medical aid. He'll soon be well again.

PRINCE ALBERT.

—Mr. J. M. Campbell, merchant of this place, shipped this week for Mr. James Macarthur 7000 lbs wool, the product of this year's clipping.

—Mr. W. J. Patterson preached the quarterly sermon to the Royal Templars of Temperance on Sunday evening, in the Methodist church. There was a large and appreciative audience who listened very attentively to a most excellent and practical discourse delivered by Mr. Patterson. The choir sang exceedingly well, especially rendering, very effectively the anthem "God be with you till we meet again."

—Freddie Stewart, only son of Mr. Alex. Stewart, of this town, was drowned on the 18th ult. about five miles out of town. He was out shooting and had waded into a small lake to bring out a duck. His body was found in six feet of water and he had a duck in hand.

PHYSIOLOGY AND HYGIENE.

Some Facts in Regard to Rabies and Insulation Against It.

There is annually more or less excitement in large communities, during the heated term, over the real or supposed madness of dogs, and not infrequently a panic arises on account of some ugly bite inflicted by a suspicious animal. Dr. John Crowell, in the Science News that, as a rule, the terrible disease of rabies shows itself in man at a period of between forty and sixty days after the reception of the bite of an infected animal. The most prominent symptoms are connected with the nervous system, which consist in a reflex action, especially of those nerves which control the power of swallowing and respiration. The recurrence of the frightful spasms at every attempt at deglutition is the most awful symptom of the disease, and this is so great that the sight of any liquid, or even the impulse of a current of cold air, is sufficient to induce the spasms.

The term "hydrophobia" is the cause of much needless confusion, for hydrophobia (fear of water) does not of itself constitute rabies, for this may exist without hydrophobia. The hydrophobia is apparently due to an affection of the general nervous system, for the hydrophobic spasms to prevent before the patient attempts to drink; and it may be provoked by a variety of causes, like a bright light, or the sudden touch of some unexpected object, or the movements of the attendants, or more especially by the impression produced by the passage of a draught of air. This last symptom is considered one of the most important symptoms of true rabies, as it is never absent in the real disease, and seldom present in any of the other affections which are accompanied by spasms of deglutition. The whole nervous system is in a state of super-excitation, and the terror from the fear of attack often brings on the paroxysm with increased vehemence, and the contortions, cries, fury and hallucinations of the special senses follow each other with fearful certainty. The result is invariably fatal, and usually occurs within three days after the appearance of the disease.

According to Dr. Crowell, the general opinion of scientific men all over the world is that the inoculation advocated by Pasteur, the French savant, is not only an absolute protection to the patient against the outbreak of the rabid disease, but that it is free from any serious effects to the person inoculated.

An Unfounded and Dangerous Phrase.

The American Analyst suggests that it would be an excellent thing if physicians "would invent some other name than heart failure for about all the deaths which occur nowadays." It finds it "difficult for any one conversant with the organs of the human body to understand how any human being can die without heart failure, while the cause of the failure of the heart at death may be very numerous. This might not be of serious moment were it not for the fact that hundreds of people are being nearly frightened to death by the constant use of the cause for sudden deaths, and many people who are sick, and necessarily have some heart symptoms, are kept in constant terror by reading or hearing in other ways of death after death by heart failure. It would be well if physicians who are too indolent or too ignorant to search out the disease lying back of the heart failure to consider how much harm they are doing the community, and if they cannot correct the habit, newspapers and the public should avoid giving currency to this unfounded and dangerous phrase. There are probably no more deaths from heart failure in these times than heretofore, but a new cause for death has been coined, and the nervous and timid are being severely injured by it."

Saccharin as an Antiseptic.

The value of saccharin as an antiseptic is urged by a writer in London Lancet, who claims that a strength of 1 to 500, as an addition to medicaments and other solutions, prevents the formation of low organisms, and that a valuable, inexpensive dentifrice may be prepared by simply dissolving saccharin in water to the proportion of 6 per cent. A teaspoonful of this in half a pint of water has been recommended as an admirable antiseptic mouth wash, while a solution of saccharin of the strength of 2 per cent. is advised in cases of malignant or other disease of the stomach, requiring the washing out of that organ.

SOCIAL ETIQUETTE.

Some Hints on the Writing of a Correct and Graceful Note or Letter.

Of all these things with which it is taken for granted every one is familiar, there is probably no item upon which there is more ignorance than there is in the art of polite letter writing. To the world-beleaguered writer Harper's Bazar gives a number of useful hints, among them the following: In the first place, never begin a letter simply "My dear Mr. Smith," or "Dear Sir," or "Dear Madam." Common courtesy demands this. Never begin a letter to any one with "My dear Mr. Brown," "My dear Mr. Smith," or "Dear Friend." If one is so sufficiently intimate with another to address him in the conventional manner as "My dear Mr. Brown," for the same reason do not use the phrase "Friend Mr. Smith," "Friend Mr. Robinson." This absurd fashion is rarely practiced except by those ignorant of the finer shades of good breeding and social customs.

Nothing is implied by the word dear at the opening of a letter. It is simply a form that has been adopted for convenience sake. For a formal note, if written in the first person, say "My dear Mr. B." The dropping of the "my" signifies a greater degree of intimacy. Nothing is meant either by the wording of the signature, "Yours truly," "Yours very truly," and even "Faithfully yours," are simply "ours de phrase" and must be simply taken for what they are worth.

Never use abbreviations except in business correspondence and do not be economical of the first personal pronoun. If one takes the time to write a friendly letter, one should give it the due dignity of words and sentences of full length, instead of obliging a person who reads to supply elisions. What can be more slovenly and ungraceful than such a note as this from a young man to a young woman: "Friend Miss Jennie—Have learned to you will be in town this eve. Wd like to see you. Shd you care to have me call, write me at office wh you will be disengaged. Yours, etc., J. Smith."

Never use two persons in a note intended to be in the third person; be consistent. For instance, in declining an invitation do not say, "Miss B. regrets that a severe cold will prevent her being present at your card party on Tuesday evening," nor, "I regret that I shall be unable to accept Mrs. T.'s invitation to dinner, as I shall be out of town at that time."

"Mustn't I sign my name to it?" inquired a man naively, after he had asked and received information as to the proper method of replying to a formal note. "It looks so queer to see just 'Mr. J. accepts with pleasure Mrs. K.'s kind invitation for Friday evening.' I think it needs the signature to finish it off—as a sort of tail piece." A woman should never sign her name Mrs. or Miss A. In writing to a stranger the "Miss" or "Mrs." can be written at one side in brackets of the full address be given below.

The Doctor.

Oh, doctor, in our hours of ease,
We scorn your counsel as we please;
When peach and watermelon greet
The bloom rings with anguish green;
When in the night the hoarse "la whoop"
Rouses the house with fear of croup;
When must the storm that rends the skies,
"Nervously" tackles grandma's eyes;
When roaring thunder clouds low hung,
Retard the play of man's left lung;
When wintry drifts the roads impede,
And baby's nose begins to bleed;
When hub deep mud clogs all the way,
And Tommy's satchel comes to stay;
When'er the least of humors hits,
Clamors for poultices or pills,
Come right away—no matter how—
A ministering angel thou;
All aches and pains are cured by you.
Save pa's tick dollar—love you.
—Burlesque in Brooklyn Eagle.

Her Idea of "Old Masters." When Henry Savage Landor, the young English painter, was in Washington, he told us of a lady in Boston who asked him to come and look at a painting by one of the old masters, hanging on her wall. "It looks like one of Millais," said Mr. Landor. "Yes, it is," she replied. "But, my dear madam," said he, "you do not call Millais one of the old masters?" "Why, isn't he? I supposed he was quite an elderly gentleman."—Washington Post.

A New Emancipation. Jim Robinson is telling a story around Toledo which is worth printing. Of course it is about electric street railways, but that doesn't hurt it. It seems a northern company recently put in an electric road in Nashville, Tenn., and an old dandy was showing it to his wife. "Look at it! Look at it!" he said. "Bless the Lord, these Yankees are great people. Twenty-five years ago dey come down heah and freed the niggers, and now dey come down and free de mule."—Toledo Blade.

Indisputable Evidence. De Lolo—Where do you intend to spend your vacation? De Polo—I am going to our milkman's dairy farm. There is the finest kind of fishing in that neighborhood. "Huh! You don't take his word for it, do you?" "No, indeed. We've found young trout in his milk."—New York Weekly.

Making Time. Messenger going through western railway train—Want dinner at Serrano's corner? Starving Passenger—Indeed I do. Messenger—One dollar, please. Passenger—What do you want pay in advance for? Messenger—Sometimes the train is late and don't stop.—New York Weekly.

A Hard Case. Jones—Have you heard Lord Waterfall's going to be married? Smith—Indeed! Who to? To Miss Greasy, the rich candlemaker's daughter. "By Jove! I didn't think he was sufficiently in debt for that, poor fellow."—London Fun.

He Didn't Exaggerate. Victimized Emigrant to real estate agent—You wrote me that this town had lots of quiet inhabitants. I'd like to know where they are, you infernal scoundrel! Agent (blandly)—My dear sir, you'll find them over yonder in the graveyard.—Drake's Magazine.

Might He a Goose. Old Maid singing—I would I were a bird! Bird Boy—I know one bird you can't be. Old Maid—What isthat, you wicked thing! Bird Boy—A chicken. I heard that say you were no chicken, yesterday.—Boston Herald.

Reason for It. B Jones—That young fellow seems rather pessimistic. Merritt—Yes. He's an amateur photographer, and always takes a poor view of life.—Harper's Bazar.

He Remembered Too Late. During the shower the other day a man was passing up State street with an umbrella over his head, when a stranger stepped out of a doorway, grasped the handle, and said: "I've been laying for you for a month! I claim this as my property!" "Ah! Exactly—I see!" stammered the other, and he surrendered without a protest or struggle and bolted for a doorway, while the other walked off. "Was it a stolen one?" queried a man who had witnessed the affair. "Well, I suppose I picked it up somewhere." He stood looking after the umbrella for a minute or two, a sad expression on his face, and then suddenly uttered a great oath and slapped his leg. "What is it?" asked his companion. "By the big spoon, but what a fool I was! I now remember that I stole that umbrella in New Orleans a year ago, and that fellow could have had no right to it!"—Detroit Free Press.

The Reason. "Boys," said the merchant to his employees, "I am sorry to say I'll have to make a reduction of your salaries." "What," asked the head clerk, "ain't business good?" "Oh! yes, business is pretty fair." "Well, if business is good I shouldn't think you w'd want to reduce our salaries. You own a yacht and have been sailing about in her with your friends all summer. I shouldn't think a man who owns a yacht would want to reduce the pay of his employees." "There you are wrong, my friend. It is precisely because I own a yacht that I am obliged to reduce your pay. When you own a yacht and have lots of friends coming on board to visit you in a social way, you will see the point."—Boston Courier.

Since the pitch of the propeller of the Magicienne has been changed she has been able to develop 9,262 horse power, which, although above that contracted for, did not drive her over nineteen and one-eighth knots, when nineteen and three-quarter knots were expected.
